

Contents

Introduction	BILL NICHOLS	vii
PART I. SETTING THE SCENE
1 ▶	Péter Forgács: An Interview	SCOTT MACDONALD 3
2 ▶	The Memory of Loss: Péter Forgács's Saga of Family Life and Social Hell	PÉTER FORGÁCS AND BILL NICHOLS, IN DIALOGUE 39
PART II. THE HOLOCAUST FILMS
3 ▶	Toward a New Historiography: The Aesthetics of Temporality	ERNST VAN ALPHEN 59
4 ▶	Ordinary Film: The Maelstrom	MICHAEL S. ROTH 75
5 ▶	Historical Discourses of the Unimaginable: The Maelstrom	MICHAEL RENOV 85
6 ▶	Waiting, Hoping, among the Ruins of All the Rest	KAJA SILVERMAN 96
7 ▶	The Trace: Framing the Presence of the Past in Free Fall	MALIN WAHLBERG 119

PART III. OTHER FILMS/OTHER CONTEXTS

8 ▶	How to Make History Perceptible: The Bartos Family and the Private Hungary Series	ROGER ODIN	137
9 ▶	Found Images as Witness to Central European History: A Bibó Reader and Miss Universe 1929	CATHERINE PORTUGES	159
10 ▶	Reenvisioning the Documentary Fact: On Saying and Showing in Wittgenstein Tractatus and Bourgeois Dictionary	TYRUS MILLER	177
11 ▶	The World Rewound: Wittgenstein Tractatus	WHITNEY DAVIS	195
12 ▶	Taking the Part for the Whole: Some Thoughts Inspired by the Film Music of Tibor Szemző	TAMÁS KORÁNYI	222
13 ▶	Analytical Spaces: The Installations of Péter Forgács	LÁSZLÓ F. FÖLDÉNYI	229
14 ▶	Reorchestrating History: Transforming The Danube Exodus into a Database Documentary	MARSHA KINDER	235
	Acknowledgments		257
	Filmography		259
	Contributors		261
	Index		265