

CONTENTS

Acknowledgments	ix
Introduction	xi

PART I: SELECTION AND ASSESSMENT

Chapter 1: Forces Shaping Scholarly Publishing	3
Robert W. Boissy
Chapter 2: The Ghosts in the Stacks: Collection Development Practice Past, Present, and Future in Academic Research Libraries	13
Mark Sandler
Chapter 3: Who Does What? Building Relationships between Technical and Public Services Staff	31
Laurel Tarulli
Chapter 4: Evaluating Subscription Databases	41
Nadine P. Ellero and Juliet T. Rumble
Chapter 5: Perspectives on Weeding in Academic Library Collections	59
David A. Tyckoson
Chapter 6: Weeding the Collection: Perspectives from Three Public Librarians	77
Merle Jacob, Sue O'Brien, and Bonnie Reid
Chapter 7: Education for Collection Development and Management	89
John M. Budd

PART II: ACQUISITIONS

Chapter 8: Demand-Driven Acquisitions: Just in Time	101
Robert Alan
Chapter 9: HAM: A Hybrid Acquisitions Model for Public Libraries	109
Sian Brannon
Chapter 10: Beyond Reviews: Understanding the Selection Cycle in Public Library Collection Development	121
Neal Wyatt
Chapter 11: The Big Deal and the Future of Journal Licensing in Academic Libraries	135
Jeffrey D. Carroll
Chapter 12: Collection Development between Teaching Mission and Resource Management: The Case of Carleton College	149
Kathy Tezla and Victoria Morse
Chapter 13: Lease Plans in Academic Libraries	161
Anne Behler
Chapter 14: Lease Services as a Collection Development Strategy	169
Kathleen Sullivan
Chapter 15: Self-Publishing: Does It Belong in the Collection?	177
James LaRue
Chapter 16: eBooks in Academic Libraries	187
Michael Levine-Clark
Chapter 17: eBook Collection Development in Public Libraries	199
Christopher Baker
Chapter 18: Streaming Video	215
deg farrelly

PART III: ACCESS, COOPERATIVE EFFORTS, SHARED COLLECTIONS

Chapter 19: Cataloging for Collection Management	233
Linda R. Musser and Christopher H. Walker

Chapter 20: Do We Need Dewey? Anythink Libraries in Colorado	243
Logan Macdonald
Chapter 21: Rethinking Access to Collections in the Discovery Age	253
Jody Condit Fagan and Meris A. Mandernach
Chapter 22: Consortia Services in Collection Management	271
Kim Armstrong
Chapter 23: Floating Collections: Perspectives from an Academic Library	281
Karen E. Greever
Chapter 24: Floating Collections: Perspectives from a Public Librarian	289
Wendy Bartlett
Chapter 25: Beyond My People and Thy People, or the Shared Print Collections Imperative	297
Robert H. Kieft
 PART IV: PRESERVATION AND SPECIAL COLLECTIONS
Chapter 26: Thinking about Collection Development in Special Collections	323
Steven K. Galbraith
Chapter 27: Collaborative Disaster Networks	335
Thomas F.R. Clareson
Chapter 28: Digitization Projects	345
L. Suzanne Kellerman
Chapter 29: Print and Digital Preservation	359
Jacob Nadal
 Epilogue	 375
Index	377
About the Editors and the Contributors	385