

TABLE OF CONTENTS

Acknowledgments 9

INTRODUCTION 11

Museum, archive, collection: unravelling definitions and concepts 13

Collections and case studies 16

Structure of the book 19

The timeline of the pas-de-deux 21

PART I COLLECTIONS 29

1 PRIVATE COLLECTORS 35

Three collection strategies 36

The Desmet Collection: a diorama in time 37

The Uitkijk Collection: film as art 40

2 BLIND CHOICES: PARAMETERS AND REPETITIONS 45

Film titles and filmmakers: the film canon 45

Production year: early film 51

Production country: national films 54

3 EYES WIDE OPEN: DUPLICATES 59

Aesthetic value 61

From wonder to resonance 64

Canonical selection 66

Eclectic consequences 70

| 7

PART II PRESERVATIONS 73

- 4 PASSIVE PRESERVATION: AN HISTORICAL OVERVIEW 79
Nitrate and the paradigm of reproducibility 79
Nitrate and perishability 85
Nitrate films and uniqueness 88
- 5 IMPRESSIONS: RESTORATION OF THE FILM IMAGE 95
Black-and-white film art 95
Colour restorations: impressions or imprints? 99
- 6 RECONSTRUCTIONS 109
The director's version 110
Shown versions 112
Archival versions 114
New versions 117
Unity in parts 119
Academics and the 'original' 120

8 |

PART III PRESENTATIONS 125

- 7 FILM MUSEUM EXHIBITION SPACES 131
The art museum dispositif 131
Two film museum traditions 138
Towards a historical sensation 145
- 8 FRAMING PROGRAMMES 151
Film as art or from 'the old box'? 153
Transitions 163
Educational discoveries 167
- 9 PERFORMANCES 179
Music and lectures 180
Materiality and projection 186
The musealisation of projection techniques 189
- CODA: PAST FUTURES, FUTURE PASTS 195

Notes 209

Bibliography 245

Index 261