

CONTENTS

I. 1896—1916. The Beginnings	7
— 27 May 1896. The first public viewings	7
— 10 May 1897. The first newsreels	9
— 1898. A world première: Professor Gheorghe Marinescu initiates medical research films	10
— 1910. The first Romanian film-house: "Carmen Sylva"	11
— Constantin T. Theodorescu and his "Romania Film"	13
— 1911. Grigore Brezeanu shoots Fatal Love	14
— March 1912. Romania's Independence — an epic with 80,000 extras	15
— The ambitions of "Leon Popescu's Art Films"	18
— Further initiatives	19
II. 1916—1930. Destinies of Film Directors
— Post-war producers of newsreels and documentaries	21
— Re-birth from ashes	23
— Talents in search of capital	24
— The gift of the comedy	27
III. 1930—1944. Towards a State Cinema Industry	30
— Dimitrie Gusti places the cinema at the service of sociological research	31
— Features becoming talkies	32
— 1936. The National Cinema Office	34
— A Stormy Night establishes Jean Georgescu's fame	35
IV. 1944—1980. The Stages of the Socialist Cinema	38
— 1944—1948. Transition years	38
— The stages of the motion picture industry	39
— The stages of creation	41
— Victor Iliu, a master and a mentor	45
— 1957. "Palme d'Or" at Cannes, for Ion Popescu-Gopo	47
— In search for a specific expression	48
— Between literature and the cinema	51
— 1963. The moment of emulation	53
— The rise of the documentary school	56
— A sentiment of history	59
— The film d'auteur : Malvina Urşianu, Iulian Mihiu, Liviu Ciulei, Lucian Pintilie.	66
— The film d'auteur for "parents and children": Ion Popescu-Gopo and Elisabeta Bostan	71

— The bent for politics: Manole Marcus, Gheorghe Vitanidis, Mircea Mureșan Francisc Munteanu	73
— The bent for the present times: Andrei Blaiier, Lucian Bratu, Mircea Săucan, Savel Știopul, Virgil Calotescu	81
— Champions of the box-office: Sergiu Nicolaescu, Mircea Drăgan, Geo Saizescu, Dinu Cocea, Doru Năstase	85
V. The Generation '70	93
— The gift of writing: Dan Pița, Mircea Veroiu	94
— The gift of truthfulness: Mircea Daneliuc, Alexandru Tatos	99
— Protean ways: Șerban Creangă, Mircea Moldovan, Cristiana Nicolae, Constantin Vaeni, Dinu Tănase, Stere Gulea, Timotei Ursu, a.o.	103
— Late-comers: Nicolae Mărgineanu, Iosif Demian, Alexa Visarion, Ada Pistiner	110