Chapter Seven .....	68
The Canon Lenses
Canon quality; the lens coatings; the Canon lenses compared, discussion and listing; range of fields covered; care of lenses; extra-wide-angle lenses, 25-28mm; normal wide-angle, 35mm; high-speed 50mm; normal 50mm; medium long-focus, 85mm; telephoto, 100mm, 135mm; extra long telephoto, 200mm, 400mm; 800mm.
Chapter Eight .....	88
The Canon Viewfinders
Parallax-correction, zoomfinders, erect-image and universal finders.
Chapter Nine .....	98
The Lens for the Job
A new look at the subject; picking the "right" lens; the lens groups; the "normal" lens; the double standard; the 50mm as wide-angle or telephoto; wide-angle characteristics; Canon wide-angles; speed and the Canon lenses; the 50mm f/1.2; the telephoto closes in from distance; narrow depth of field; steady does it; focusing is critical; the long telephoto lenses; emphasize size sameness; the choice of lenses; the choice of lens speed; the key to perspective; control of image relationships; varying the viewpoint; background versus foreground; perspective by suggestion.
Chapter Ten .....	133
Underwater Photography With the Canon, by Peter Stackpole
An expert in the field offers practical advice on using the Canon below the surface for black-and-white and color pictures.
Chapter Eleven .....	141
Canon Close-ups and Copying
Three methods for close-ups; the Auto-Up device; Canon extension tubes; the focusing mount; viewing the subject field; focusing the close-up; the Canon copying stand; the stand in use; the exposure factors; close-up meter readings; films for close-ups; copying techniques; lighting, use of filters.

Chapter Twelve .....	158
Flash With the Canon
Model V Flash Unit; Model Y Flash Unit; Micro-Sync and beam control; Model III Flash Unit; Model B-III Flash Unit; types of flash lamps; exposure for flash; electronic flash; flash techniques—bounce light, sun-flash synchronization.
Chapter Thirteen .....	174
Color With the Canon
The color films; new color controls; authentic color; kits for film and prints; reason for color; the color coatings; black-and-white from color; color filter tables.
Chapter Fourteen .....	182
Specialized Canon Tools
Canon equipment for the scientific and technical worker; photoradarscope; photomicrographic units; photo-oscilloscope units; X-ray cameras.
