

CONTENTS

Chapter	Page
PREFACE	v
INTRODUCTION	i
I. DEVELOPMENT OF THE MOTION PICTURE INDUSTRY	7
Definitions	7
Early History, 1889-1908	9
The Motion Picture Patents Company, 1908-15	14
The Film Itself, 1903-15	17
Theatres, 1905-16	20
Production as It Affected Distribution Practices, 1912-19	24
Integration of Production, Distribution, and Exhibition, 1917-23	31
Preparation for the Advent of Sound, 1923-26	39
Sound, 1927-29	42
II. THE MOTION PICTURE INDUSTRY TODAY	54
Some Questions to Be Answered	54
What Is the Economic Importance of the Industry?	55
Production versus Exhibition	58
Structure of the Industry	61
The Majors	64
What Kind of Theatres Do the Majors Own?	74
Why Are the First-run Theatres Important?	77
Relationship between the Big Five and the Little Three	84
Role of the Majors in Production and Distribution	87
III. HOW PROFITABLE IS THE MOTION PIC- TURE BUSINESS?	96
Ratios of Profitability	98
Executive Remuneration and Dividends	101
IV. THE MARKETING OF FILMS	113
Films as a Commodity	113

The Principal Trade Practices: General Description	114
Block-Booking	116
Arguments For and Against	117
How Block-Booking Works	120
Designated Play Dates	124
Protection	125
Circuit Buying Power	131
The Consent Decree	139
V. CONCLUSION	143
BIBLIOGRAPHY	151
INDEX	155