

Contents

Acknowledgments		xi
Foreword: Film Crit Hulk		xiii
Part 1 ●	Introduction: Middle-Aged Olympians	1
Part 2 ●	Who Needs Film School?	5
CHAPTER 1	Ten Reasons to Go to Film School	7
	1. Time	8
	2. Structure	8
	3. The Freedom (to Fail)	9
	4. The Opportunity to Relocate to a Filmmaking Center	9
	5. Commitment/Affirmation	9
	6. Guidance	10
	7. A Professional Network	10
	8. Insurance/Equipment	11
	9. Teaching Credentials	11
	10. Practice	12
CHAPTER 2	Ryan Koo: Ten Reasons Not to Go to Film School	13
	1. It Has Never Been More Expensive to Go to Film School, and It Has Never Been Cheaper to Make a Movie	15
	2. Many of Your Favorite Filmmakers Didn't Go to Film School	15
	3. You Don't Need Access to Expensive Celluloid Equipment	15
	4. Every Movie and Book Is at Your Fingertips	16
	5. A Film Degree Is Optional	16
	6. Not Everyone Learns Best in the Classroom	17
	7. Lessons and Answers Can Be Found on Websites, Forums and DVD Special Features	17
	8. An Online Network	18
	9. You'll Probably Make It (or Not) Either Way	18
	10. The Most Instructive School Is the School of Hard Knocks	19
CHAPTER 3	Graduate or Undergraduate Film School?	21
	1. Money	22
	2. Maturity	22
	3. Timing	23

CHAPTER 4	The Film School Majors This Book Addresses	25
	1. Directing	26
	2. Cinematography	26
	3. Editing	27
	4. Producing	27
	5. Screenwriting/Television Writing	28
Part 3 ●	Before Film School	31
CHAPTER 1	Develop Your Voice	33
	1. Areas of Mastery for Filmmakers	34
	2. Dig Your Creative Well	36
	3. Self-Overcoming: Discipline, Courage, Perseverance	41
	4. Get Organized	43
	5. Build a Writer's Routine	45
	6. Build Your Portfolio	48
	7. Revise Your Work Based on Feedback	50
	8. Take a Few Classes to Prepare	51
	9. Think about What Major You Would Be Interested In	52
	10. Get a Job	53
	11. Define Why You Want to Be a Filmmaker	53
	Sidebar: The Big Choice: Film School, Film Work, or Just Keep Making Things?	55
CHAPTER 2	Applying to Film School: General Research	57
	1. How Did the Movies I Love Get Made?	58
	2. Did the Filmmakers Go to Film School?	59
	3. What Companies Made the Films and TV Shows I Love?	60
	4. Big Cities/Small Cities	61
	5. Read the Trades	61
	6. Learn the History	63
	7. What Kind of Filmmaker Do I Want to Be?	64
	Sidebar: Choose the Major You Actually Want to Pursue	66
CHAPTER 3	Applying to Film School: Program-Specific Research	69
	1. Eight Great American Film Schools (and Seventeen Very Good Ones)	70
	2. The Possible Majors Revisited	76
	3. What Does Each School's Program Look Like?	77
	4. How Much Do They Cost?	78
	5. Can I Afford It?	79
	6. Can I Get In?	80
	7. Pick Three to Five Schools	81
	Sidebar: If You Don't Move to a Big City	81

CHAPTER 4	Apply	85
	1. Start Early	86
	2. Make an Application To Do List and Matching Calendar	86
	3. Write Your Statement of Purpose (Personal Statement)	88
	4. Assemble Your Work Samples	89
	5. Revise Your Application Based on Feedback	90
	6. Polish (Read It Out Loud)	91
	7. Submit	91
	8. Prepare for Your Interview	92
	9. If You Don't Get In on Your First Try	93
CHAPTER 5	For International Students	95
	1. American Basics	96
	2. Special Financial Considerations for International Students	98
	3. Learn Really Good English	99
	4. Catch Up on American Pop Culture	100
	5. Keep a Foot in Your Home Country	100
	6. Embrace Your Dual Identity	100
	7. Staying in America: The Post-Film School Dash	101
Part 4 ●	During Film School	103
CHAPTER 1	Minimize Debt	105
	1. Calculate Your Net Worth	106
	2. The Debt Scorecard	108
	3. Track All Expenses	109
	4. Teaching Assistantships (TAships)	110
	5. Get a Part-Time Job (Pay Down Interest)	110
	6. Be a Residential Assistant (Free Housing)	111
	7. For Directors: Avoid the Arms Race	112
	8. For Directors: Buy an Affordable Kit	113
	9. Leave of Absences	114
CHAPTER 2	Practice Your Craft	115
	1. Make a Creative Plan (Set Goals)	116
	2. Finish Every Project	118
	3. Learn to Give and Receive Great Feedback	118
	4. Develop a Feedback Circle	121
	5. Learn How to Do Research	121
	6. Develop a Project You Can Realistically Make After Graduation	125
	7. Don't Swing at Every Pitch (Prioritize)	126
	8. Understand the Other Disciplines	127

	9. Give Yourself Talkdowns	128
	10. Develop Healthy Habits	128
CHAPTER 3	Build Relationships	131
	1. Do Several Internships	132
	2. Be Grateful (Always Thank and Update)	133
	3. Learn to Make an Email Request	134
	4. Your Attitude Is Your Life	135
	5. Your Classmates Are Your Film School	135
	6. Become a Talent Scout	136
	7. Don't Compare Yourself to Others	136
	8. (Don't Be Afraid to) Fall in Love	137
	9. Choose Your Collaborators Wisely	137
	10. Who You Know Does Matter (A Strategy for Meeting People)	138
CHAPTER 4	Craft an Exit Strategy	141
	1. The Lean Years	142
	2. Film Festivals	143
	3. Some Film Festivals You Should Know	145
	4. How to Apply to Film Festivals	154
	5. How to Release a Short Film Online	155
	6. Screenwriting Opportunities	157
	7. Imposter Syndrome	159
	8. TV Writing Opportunities	159
	9. Major Independent Film Organizations	161
	10. A Career Is Not a Contest	163
	11. Producers	164
	12. Co-Production Markets	164
	13. Representation	166
	14. Get a Job	167
	15. Get It in Writing	168
	16. Crowdfunding	170
	17. Patience (Rejection)	174
	18. Leveling Up (Learn to Love the Process)	174
	19. Always Make the Hard Choice	175
Part 5 ●	Life After Film School: A Benediction	177
Appendices
	A. Author Bio	179
	B. Film School Budgeting Worksheet	181
	C. Applying to Film Festivals Worksheet	183
	D. A Reading List for Aspiring Filmmakers	185
	Index	191