

contents

Dedicated to my husband and my sons

A memory of Alex Leo Sarban (1959–2011)

acknowledgements vii

preface xi

Introduction 1

- 1 Difficult Beginnings 3
- 2 Bright Intervals: Romania's Short-lived Thaw 17
- 3 Romanian Cinema in the 1970s: Versatility on the Menu 27
- 4 Dan Pița: A Filmmaker for All Seasons 47
- 5 Mircea Daneliuc: Romanian Cinema's Rebel with a Cause 57
- 6 The 1989 Moment: Film and History in the Early 1990s 73
- 7 Through a Glass, Darkly: Lucian Pintilie as Past and Present Role Model 85
- 8 The Films of Nae Caranfil: A Taste of Turn-of-the-Century Sophisticated Comedy 121
- 9 Short Films on the Crest of the New Wave 139
- 10 Less is More: Puiu, Porumboiu, Muntean and the Impact of Romanian Film
Minimalism 155
- 11 The 4, 3, 2 Paradigm: Cristian Mungiu's Large-scale Phenomenon 181
- 12 Making Films for Wider Audiences: Romanian Cinema Turns Global 201
- 13 Romanian Exilic and Diasporic Cinema: The Case of Radu Gabrea 221

Conclusion 231

notes 237

filmography 251

bibliography 258

index 265