

List of Illustrations	7
Acknowledgements	9
Introduction	11
1. Media (An)archaeology, Ecologies, and Minor Knowledges	15
Introduction: The Long 1970s	15
Concepts of Media Archaeology, Anarcheology and Media Ecologies	22
Radical and Guerrilla Media	33
Popular Cultures, Minor Subjugated Knowledges and Expressive Machines	37
2. Armed Guerrilla Media Ecologies from Latin America to Europe	51
Introduction: Contra 'Mass Mediated Terrorism'	51
Revolution in the Revolution: The Urban Guerrilla Concept from Latin America to Europe and North America	55
Brigate Rosse and Armed Struggle in Italy	72
The 'Baader Meinhof Complex' and the June 2nd Movement	87
Weather Variations: Weatherman, the Weather Underground, and the Symbionese Liberation Army	106
3. Autonomy Movements, the Nexus of 1977, and Free Radio	137
Introduction: Radical Politics, Bifurcations, and the Event	137
Italian Workerism and Autonomia	142
1977 as Nexus: The Movement of 1977, Creative Autonomia , and Punk	160
Rebellious Radio from Marconi to Free Radios	174
Media beyond 'Socialist Strategy': Enzensberger, Baudrillard, and the Genealogy of Radio Alice	178
The Media Ecology of Radio Alice	183
4. Militant Anti-Cinemas, Minor Cinemas and the Anarchive Film	193
Introduction: Destroying the (Cinema) Apparatus, Transforming the (Audiovisual) Machine	193
Militant Anti-Cinemas in the 1970s	199

Minor Anti-Cinemas: Anti Psychiatric, Heretical, Feminist, and Postcolonial	223
The Counter-Public Sphere, Anarchival Film, and Documentary Symptomatology	241
5. Ecologies of Radical and Guerrilla Television	263
Introduction: Cinema/Television/Video or Cain vs. Abel Revisited	263
Sonimage, Fassbinder, and Radical Auteur Television	268
Ecologies of Guerrilla Television: Ant Farm, Raindance Corporation, TVTV, and Radical Software	298
Conclusion: Terms of Cybernetic Warfare	321
Endnotes	329
Bibliography	339
Key Film, Television, and Video Cited	351
Index	353