

Illustrations	vii
Contributors	viii

Introduction: Reimagining the Contemporary Musical in the Twenty-first Century	1
K. J. Donnelly and Beth Carroll

PART ONE: ORIGINAL MUSICALS

1	Aesthetic Absurdities in Takashi Miike's The Happiness of the Katakuris	13
	Craig Hatch
2	Film and the Twilight of Rock (Rock is Dead and Film Killed It): Post-millennial Rock Musicals	25
	K. J. Donnelly
3	Team America: World Police : Duplicitous Voices of the Socio-political Spy Musical	40
	Jack Curtis Dubowsky
4	The Anti-musical or Generic Affinity: Is there Anything Left to Say?	58
	Beth Carroll

CONTENTS

5	‘Is This Real Enough For You?’: Lyrical Articulation of the Beatles’ Songs in Across the Universe Stephanie Fremaux	72
6	‘Love Is an Open Door’: Revising and Repeating Disney’s Musical Tropes in Frozen Ryan Bunch	89
PART TWO: STAGE TO SCREEN
7	Star Quality? Song, Celebrity and the Jukebox Musical in Mamma Mia! Catherine Haworth	107
8	Beyond the Barricade: Adapting Les Misérables for the Cinema Ian Sapiro	123
PART THREE: MUSICALS BY ANOTHER NAME
9	O Brother, Where Art Thou? : The Coen Brothers and the Musical Genre Contamination Stefano Baschiera	143
10	Racing in the Beat: Music in the Fast & Furious Franchise Todd Decker	157
11	Kill Bill : Quentin Tarantino as a Musical Filmmaker Geena Brown	174
	Index	191