

TABLE OF CONTENTS

Foreword: The Once and Future Study of Popular Culture vii
Gary Hoppenstand

Preface: Popular Culture in the Twenty-First Century xv
Myc Wiatrowski and Cory Barker

Acknowledgements xxi

Part I

Creating Public Intellectuals: Popular Culture's Move from Niche to Mainstream in the Twenty-First Century 2
Bob Batchelor

Writing Poetry about Pushpin: Chuck Klosterman and the Future of Cultural Studies 14
John Fitzpatrick

Deep Culture: Findings from Cultural Studies and Analysis 26
Margaret J. King

Part II

The Joke is on You: Batman's Antiquated Sense of Morality
in Under the Red Hood 40
Walter Merryman

For Queen and Country: British Nationalism as Transmitted through the Apocalyptic Narratives within Doctor Who 51
Tony Nagel

Conventions of Fantasy: Sex and Relationships in *Dragon Age:
Origins* 58
Kate Reynolds

Still within Boundary Walls: Parenting and Gender Conventionality in American Sitcoms Full House and The Brady Bunch	73
Molly Weinberg

Part III

“We FBA Now”: Community Building and the Furry Basketball Association	82
Sean Ahern

Welcome to the Twilight Zone: Experiencing the Real and Fake of Forks, Washington through Ecotourism and Fiction Induced Tourism	93
Justine Moller

Set Phasers to Extrapolate: Examining the New Cultural Role of the Fan through Star Trek Fandom on Tumblr	109
Corrigan Vaughan

Part IV

Made in America: Masculinity and Work in Contemporary American “Labor Reality” Television	122
Cory Barker

Perceptions and Representations of Japanese Femininity: An Analysis of Weeaboo Internet Cult Figures	127
Anna O’Brien

Doctor Who?: Questioning the Traditional Masculine Hero	137
Travis Limbert

Chuck versus the American Hero: Interrogating the Dialectic Rhetoric of Masculinities in Contemporary American Cultural Discourses	144
Myc Wiatrowski

Bibliography	161
--------------------	-----

Contributors	172
--------------------	-----

Index	176
-------------	-----