

Contents

Editor's Preface	vii
1. President Garfield ate some toast	1
2. David Belasco was practically a member of our family	21
3. Mother's energy and resourcefulness	34
4. We were married August 16, 1902	51
5. Da Vinci . . . Kircher . . . Newton	73
6. Have you ever had to sit still	95
7. Months before, in an unheard-of town	123
8. I am an "ex-victim of Zukor's voracity"	154
9. Today's dispatches from Cape Canaveral	184
10. "Disgusting debauchery . . ."	209
11. The Arbuckle scandal had broken	237
12. ". . . A man by the name of Milbank . . ."	266
13. Shantytowns of old tin	297
14. I voted for Franklin D. Roosevelt	326
15. When a man nears sixty	354
16. Anti-Semitism was the first maor problem	389
17. "You won't call it The Ten Commandments , of course . . ."	411
Epilogue by the Editor	438
Appendix: Motion Pictures directed by Cecil B. DeMille	441
Index	447