

CONTENTS

	PAGE
EDITOR'S NOTE	vii
PREFACE	xi

CHAPTER I

ATTITUDES TOWARDS THE CINEMA	I
The history of the film—Early experiments—Fifteen years ago—Stage v. screen—Seen but not heard

CHAPTER II

THE SILENT FILM	22
Early successes—How music plays its part—The Russian film—International appeal—Wardour Street—The renter and the quota

CHAPTER III

THE BIRTH OF A NOTION	58
Silence no longer golden—Is sound unsound?—Language problems—Hollywood ahead

CHAPTER IV

THE FILM STORY	77
The adaptation—The original story—Art where art thou?—The box-office octopus

CHAPTER V

BEHIND THE SCREENS	91
The script—Scenario secrets—Synopsis and continuity—Studio impressions—The art department—Lights—Colour

CHAPTER VI

PAGE

PRODUCING A SOUND FILM 139

The microphone—The amplifier—Recording—Exterior sound production—Sound trucks—Cameras—Post-synchronization—Effects—Indirect sound—The art of cutting, or producing with scissors

CHAPTER VII

THE INTEREST FILM 185

How it is made—Ideas men—The news reel—Screen journalism—The cartoon—The advertisement film and the public

CHAPTER VIII

THE CINEMA OF TO-DAY AND TO-MORROW 210

Profits and prophets—Internationality

APPENDIX 227

INDEX 233