

Contents

List of Figures	viii
List of Tables	x
List of Contributors	xi
Acknowledgements	xv

PART 1

Production	1
Introduction	3
ANNET DEKKER AND GABRIELLA GIANNACHI
1 The tension between static documentation and dynamic digital art	16
ANNET DEKKER
2 Documentation in an age of photographic hypercirculation	27
KATRINA SLUIS
3 Fifty-two weeks: A year of El Paquete Semanal, the Cuban offline Internet, and the two artists who archived it	38
ORIT GAT
4 In-game photography	50
ANNET DEKKER IN CONVERSATION WITH MARCO DE MUTIIS
5 Documentation as a creative act	60
ANNET DEKKER IN CONVERSATION WITH MATT ADAMS

PART 2

Circulation

73

6 Challenges in the creation, perception and distribution of documentation

75

SANDRA FAUCONNIER

7 Leaking lands: Museum documentation without digitisation

87

OFRI CNAANI

8 Digital culture: Heritage, social media and documentation practices

100

NOUR A. MUNAWAR

9 Step-and-repeat: The feed as the great flattener

109

GAIA TEDONE IN CONVERSATION WITH DENA YAGO

10 One Terabyte of documentation: The circulation of GeoCities

120

ANNET DEKKER AND KATRINA SLUIS IN CONVERSATION

WITH OLIA LIALINA

PART 3

Preservation

131

11 The use of documentation for preservation and exhibition: The cases of SFMOMA, Tate, Guggenheim, MOMA, and LIMA

133

GABRIELLA GIANNACHI

12 Rendering the moment: Virtual reality as documentation tool for spatial kinetic artwork

145

YUHSIEN CHEN AND TZUCHUAN LIN

13 Collecting social photo: A Nordic project in the search of sustainable methods for preserving social media as cultural heritage

158

ANNI WALLENIS

14 In between performance and documentation

172

DRAGAN ESPENSCHIED

15	How a guitar started to self-document its ‘identity’: The future of art documentation	185
	STEVE BENFORD AND GABRIELLA GIANNACHI
	Index	197