

CONTENTS

1 Introduction

The wide scope of fundamental education; its importance to the undeveloped areas of the world; the value of the film.

2 The Film as a Medium

The characteristics and popular appeal of the film; its use as an instrument of popular education.

4 The Problem of Understanding through the Film

The factors which make for common understanding through the film; the conventions and techniques involved.

8 The Production of Films for Fundamental Education

Practical points to be observed: the audience's cultural and social background, experience, knowledge and needs.

12 How Films may be Used

The film's main uses in fundamental education; the role of mobile units and of campaign techniques.

16 How to Organize a Film Show

Practical points to be observed: in preparing the show and equipment, and in using films and other aids.

18 Conclusion

The importance of local initiative; Film Councils, co-operative enterprise.