

CONTENTS

INTRODUCTION · ix

I · GETTING THE PROPER EQUIPMENT · I

The selection of the camera—The use of an exposure meter—
The use of reflectors—Making a single source plug outlet.

II · MAKING YOUR CAMERA TELL A STORY · 9

How to develop a proper motion picture story—Make your audience laugh—Let's shoot a complete picture—"The Shooting Script."

III · TWO SAMPLE SCENARIOS FOR AMATEUR USE · 17

"The Sharpshooter," a father and son combination—"Down Around the River," a pastoral subject.

IV · LET'S SHOOT THE PICTURE · 28

Designing a pictorial composition—Getting that "different" angle
—The use of mirrors—Getting montage effects.

V · SOME HINTS ON SHOOTING OUTDOORS · 35

Flat lighting—Mid-day lighting—Back lighting—Side lighting —Shooting color—The use of a filter.

VI · PHOTOGRAPHING INDOORS · 42

The use of Photoflood bulbs—Determining the source of light—Lighting charts for various setups—How to balance light—Creating highlights and shadows.

VII · FLICKER FACTS ON ACTING AND DIRECTING · 52

The screen vs. stage—Screen directors—The technique of directing—The use of make-up.

VIII · FILM EDITING · 57

The function of the film editor—Developing mood—The rhythm of editing—Balancing atmosphere with movement—Cutting atmospheric shots into the picture—Transitional devices; fade, wipe, dissolve—Use of titles for transitions—The use of filmic images.

IX · NERVE AND TIME-SAVERS FOR THE AMATEUR CUTTER · 67

The use of gloves—Grouping your shots—Building a cutting box—How to splice.

X · TRICK PHOTOGRAPHY AND EFFECTS · 72

The use of a glass foreground—Tricks to do with your camera upside-down—The use of “stop motion.”

XI · MAKING YOUR OWN TITLES · 80

How to make your own home titler—How to achieve professional lettering on your title—Building a third dimensional title—The use of miniature figures in your titles—The use of cut out letters—How to make moving titles—Shadowgraphs.

XII · HOW TO MAKE TRICK TITLES · 87

Mysterious sand titles—Titles that melt—Cloud background titles—A title that writes itself—Kodachrome titles.

XIII · MAKING YOUR OWN TALKING PICTURES · 99

XIV · MAKING MONEY WITH YOUR CAMERA · 104

The cavalcade of our school—A summer camp prospectus—The home-town news—Filming birthday parties and weddings—A department store film—The story of Cinema Center.