

CONTENTS

- Introduction: Discourses, Dispositions, Tactics: Reconceiving
Management in Critical Media Industry Studies 1
Derek Johnson, Derek Kompare, and Avi Santo

I. DISCOURSES

1. Building Theories of Creative Industry Managers:
Challenges, Perspectives, and Future Directions 25
Amanda D. Lotz
2. Towards a Structuration Theory of Media Intermediaries 39
Timothy Havens
3. Linear Legacies: Managing the Multiplatform
Production Process 63
James Bennett and Niki Strange
4. Enterprising Selves: Reality Television and Human Capital 90
Laurie Ouellette

II. DISPOSITIONS

5. Record Men: Talent Scouts in the U.S. Recording Industry,
1920–1935 113
Kyle Barnett
6. Recasting the Casting Director: Managed Change,
Gendered Labor 142
Erin Hill

7. Brazilian Film Management Culture and Partnering with os majors : A Midlevel Approach Courtney Brannon Donoghue	165
8. Constructing Social Media's Indie Auteurs: Management of the Celebrity Self in the Case of Felicia Day Elizabeth Ellcessor	188
III. TACTICS
9. "Selling Station Personality": Managing Impending Change in Postwar Radio, 1948–1953 Alexander Russo	213
10. Tweeting on the BBC: Audience and Brand Management via Third Party Websites Elizabeth Evans	235
11. Market Research in the Media Industries: On the Strategic Relationship between Client and Supplier Justin Wyatt	254
12. Listening and Empathizing: Advocating for New Management Logics in Marketing and Corporate Communication Sam Ford	275
Bibliography	295
Contributors	319
Index	323