

contents

list of figures	vii
introduction: celluloid specters, digital anachronisms paul flaig and katherine groo	1
1. alice in the archives katherine groo	17
2. eternally early brian price	38
3. “historicity begins with decay and ends with the pretense of immortality” an interview with paolo cherchi usai	53
4. paris 1900: archiveology and the compilation film catherine russell	63
5. after life, early cinema: remaking the past with hirokazu kore-eda jonah come	85
6. playback, play-forward: anna may wong in double exposure yiman wang, university of california	106
7. the living nickelodeon and silent film sound today an interview with professor rick altman	126
8. intertext as archive: méliès, hugo, and new silent cinema constance balides	135
9. cross-medial afterlives: the film archive in contemporary fiction joshua yumibe	159

10. supposing that the archive is a woman paul flaig	180
11. the life cycle of an analog medium: tacita dean's film jennifer lynn peterson	200
12. from silence to babel: farocki's image infoscape brianne cohen	220
13. found memories of film history: industry in a post-industrial world, cinema in a post-filmic age brian r. jacobson	243
14. a youtube bestiary: twenty-six theses on a post-cinema of animal attractions james leo cahill	263
15. laughter in an ungoverned sphere: actuality humor in early cinema and web 2.0 rob king	294
16. "the biggest kuleshov experiment ever" a conversation with guy maddin about séances	315
contributors	331
about the american film institute	335
index	337