

Table of Contents

Acknowledgements	7
Foreword: Travelling Down /Travelling Through	9
Preface: The Balkan Imaginary of Ruins	13
Introduction: Charting the Terrain: Early Cinema in the Balkans	17
1. Visual Culture in the Balkans, Haptic Visuality, and Archival Moving Images	35
My Journey through Savage Europe	40
Hapticality of Archival Moving Images	46
Hapticality of Visual Culture in the Balkans	49
The Byzantine Cultural Legacy	50
The Ottoman Cultural Legacy	52
Architecture, Fresco Painting, Icons, Textiles, and Jewellery	55
‘ Image survivante ’ and the Legacy of Balkan Visual Culture	60
The Difference in Perception	64
2. Historicizing the Balkan Spectator and the Embodied Cinema Experience	73
Anticipating Cinema	78
The Arrival of Cinema: Haptical Encounters with Moving Images	83
The Spaces of Cinema and Coffee Consumption	92
Cinema and ‘Intensive Life’	98
Cinema in the City	102
Looking Back at Cinema	107
3. Mapping Constellations: Movement and Cross-cultural Exchange of Images, Practices, and People	117
Journeys from the East: Cross-Cultural Travels of the Shadow-Puppet Theatre	121
The Cinematograph at the Theatre	124
Travelling Cinema Exhibitors and Filmmakers	127
The Mysterious Hungarian and the Serbian-Bulgarian Connection	134
The Balkan Cinema Pioneers and the Lost Gaze	139
Cinema and the Global Imaginary	144

4. Imagining the Balkans: The Cinematic Gaze from the Outside	153
Exoticism and the Balkans	158
The Orientalist Gaze in the Marubi Studio Photographs	160
‘Oriental’ Austria: Cinematic Representations of Bosnia and Herzegovina	164
Sensational Killings and Wild Insurgents at the Cinema	170
The Charles Urban Trading Company in the Balkans	176
Imperial Imagination, Archives, and Moving images	179
The Reverberations of Balkan Wars and Siege of Shkodra	186
5. ‘Made in the Balkans’: Mirroring the Self	197
The Desire for ‘Our’ Views	201
High-life and the Pleasure of the Screen	206
Scientific Spectacles	210
Views of Ethnographic and Socio-Political Significance	213
Pictures of Home	216
Constructing the Nation through Cinema	220
Historical Drama from Serbia	223
Historical Epic from Romania	228
Conclusion: The Future Perfect of Early Balkan Cinema	239
Bibliography	243
Appendix	265
Index	273